DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1-24 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 23 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hara et al. (hereinafter 'Hara', Pub. No. 2001/0012051).

Regarding claim 23, Hara teaches an image data transmission apparatus comprising (Either portable terminal 12, Fig. 2 or communication management center 10, Fig. 1):

a transmission unit that transmits image data (62-64, Figs. 2 and 3; [0047]; [0049], in the case of the terminal 12 or 71-73, Fig. 7; [0078];

a transfer condition table which includes (TB1, [0048];[0066]-[0068]; [0088]; [0107], which is stored in portable terminal 12; or TB2, [0079], [0081], [0133], which is stored in the communication management center 10) :

a time column including information about a time at which the image data should be transmitted (The communication management center keeps communication or transmission of content to multiple terminals, [0013], [0015]. A standby status is given when communication has not been performed, and therefore, a list of the communication-requesting terminals, the time and the order of the reception is inherently needed for performing the processing of all the requests, [0017]-[0019])

a transmission destination column including information about a transmission destination area in which a receiving apparatus receiving the image data should be placed (AR, Fig. 5, [0067]) , and

a transfer condition column including information about a transmission condition in the form of a transmission rate of a network through which the image data is transmitted at the time and to the transmission destination area (KD, Fig. 5, which summarizes the display resolution of the receiving devices, and therefore the rate at which the transmission should be sent, [0060], [0080], [0129]); and a control unit which detects the transmission destination area and a current time for transmission of the image data, detects a transfer condition corresponding to the transmission destination area and the time thus detected, by refining to the transfer condition table, and controls the amount of image data to be transmitted in accordance with the transfer condition thus detected ([0012], [0086],[0089], [0104], [0134],[0136]-[0138]).

Regarding claim 24, Hara teaches the image data transmission apparatus wherein the control unit updates the transfer condition table on the basis of a measured value of the transmission rate of the network received from the receiving apparatus receiving the image data or a relay terminal that placed in the transmission destination area (The receiving apparatus provides its display resolution or the communication management center finds out the display of the receiver terminal updating the display list –either TB1 or TB2- by storing the receiving display in the list, [0132]-[0133]).

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
